

Interreg NPA Jems instructions move online

With Interreg NPA 2021-2027 project applications must be submitted via the new electronic monitoring system, Jems. This is a user-friendly and intuitive system that will accompany applicants and beneficiary during the application and implementation of their project proposals with the programme.

In order to support applicants and beneficiaries, a new portal has been published, where all Jems' manuals and instruction documents will be published: the Interreg NPA Jems User Manuals.

A step-by-step manual has already been published to guide applicants through the entire process of submitting an application, or simply to have an overview of all sections in the form.

In the following months, additional manuals will be published to support beneficiaries during e.g. reporting and other steps in the life of a project.
